COURSE OVERVIEW

This course will provide students with an overview of the sociological approach. Major theoretical concepts and methodologies will be examined and illustrated with a wide variety of classic as well as recent empirical studies. Some of the topics we'll look at include: the influence of society on love and death; causes and consequences of social inequality (race and ethnic relations; gender relations); and social definitions of deviant behavior.

Canvas site: <https://classes.emory.edu>, Log in, then click on: Soc101: Intro to General Sociology (Nalkur). This site will include all materials that we hand out in class (the syllabus, instructions for written assignments, etc.), as well as outlines of the lectures. Any important announcements will also be posted on this site.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

1. Attendance is strongly encouraged. I will use lectures to give you additional information not found in the readings, and to provide frameworks for understanding and integrating the readings with the lecture material. We will also have discussion in class to help clarify all the material. As an incentive, regular attendance (missing 2 or fewer classes) will be used to "improve" on very close grades (borderline).

2. Two written assignments (percentages vary – see below; 45% total)

These assignments will involve writing reflections about your own behavior or gathering some kind of information/data, and writing up an analysis of those data. I will hand out instructions for these assignments during the semester.

Assignment 1:	20%
Assignment 2:	25%

All assignments are due at the BEGINNING of class on the due date. I do not accept assignments through email. Be sure to follow all instructions on the assignment sheet.

3. Two exams (percentages vary – see below; 55% total)

Exam 1 (Midterm):	25%
Exam 2 (Final):	30%

- The Midterm will be an in-class exam.
- The Final will be given during the University scheduled Final Exam period for this class (and cannot be rescheduled).
- Exam format will be discussed in class one week prior. Exams will consist of a combination of multiple-choice, short answer and essay questions.
- Details on each of the exams will also be posted on the course website (Canvas).

4. Readings

We do not have a typical “textbook” for this class. Instead, the readings are comprised of original articles from different authors (many are contained in the Henslin reader). Thus, much of what you will be reading is actual sociological research. Some of the readings are more difficult than others, and some weeks there is a heavier reading load than other weeks. I will give you guidance on “how” to read the articles, particularly the more difficult ones.

A complete schedule of the readings required for the course follows on the next few pages. You are expected to complete the readings before class each week. We will discuss some of the readings in class, so both the reading and your attendance are important. To be sure, class lecture and discussion will be more interesting if you have completed the readings! If you have trouble understanding any of the readings or the lecture material, please feel free to talk to me or to the teaching assistants for this class.

REQUIRED TEXTS

1. James Henslin. Down to Earth Sociology: Introductory Readings. 14th edition. 2007. New York: The Free Press.

Unless otherwise indicated, the selections listed below are located in the Henslin book

2. Reserve Readings (Canvas)

There are also additional required readings, available as PDF files on our Canvas site.

The Reserve Readings are marked with an asterisk () below.*

- Please read all of the written course communications thoroughly!
- If you have questions after you have read everything in a particular course document (syllabus, paper instructions, study guide), then feel free to ask me.
- Do NOT ask/email me questions that I have already answered in a course document or via posted announcement/emails. I will not respond to these questions.

Email Communication:

I generally try to respond to emails within 1 business day, but I do not guarantee a response within 24 hrs. I do not answer emails after 6pm at night.

Please be mindful of the general code of conduct that you would use in any classroom setting. I expect us all to be respectful of one another.

- Please do not arrive late to class.
- Once in class, please refrain from carrying on private conversations with your neighbor(s). This is distracting for everyone else in the room.

Extra Credit: There are no extra credit assignments available in this course.

Accommodating Disabilities:

If you have or acquire any sort of condition that may require special accommodation(s), please inform me AS SOON AS POSSIBLE (e.g., not the day of an exam) so that we may make the appropriate arrangements. such as plagiarism or cheating, will be referred to the Honors Council. For more information on the Emory Honor Code, see http://www.college.emory.edu/current/standards/honor_code.html.

Late Policy:

Unless otherwise stated on the assignment sheet or in class, an assignment submitted after the deadline will be penalized 5 percentage points for each day it is late, from the moment it is past due. If you require an extension due to illness, you must notify Dr. Nalkur prior to the deadline, and provide a note from your doctor.

Make-Up Policy:

My permission is needed to makeup exams and assignments. If you are going to miss an exam or assignment, please make every effort to notify me before the missed class and to gather appropriate material to justify your absence. If you are unable to notify me before the class/due date, please try to have a friend, roommate, etc. contact me via e-mail and inform me of your absence. A mutually convenient time will be arranged for you to make up the assignment or exam. Makeup assignments will only be allowed in a situation of an excused absence (e.g., illness, family emergency, etc.). A note from the Dean will be required to make up the final exam.

The use of cell phones is not permitted in this class.

You are not permitted to use laptops or other devices in class unless you have special permission from Dr. Nalkur.

Please turn OFF your phones before entering the classroom.

If you are found using phones or devices in class, you will be asked to leave.

Peer Tutoring Writing Support

Tutors in the Emory Writing Center and the ESL Program are available to support Emory College students as they work on any type of writing assignment, at any stage of the composing process. Tutors can assist with a range of projects, from traditional papers and presentations to websites and other multimedia projects. Writing Center and ESL tutors take a similar approach as they work with students on concerns including idea development, structure, use of sources, grammar, and word choice. They do not proofread for students. Instead, they discuss strategies and resources students can use as they write, revise, and edit their own work. Students who are currently enrolled in an ESL-supported section of English 101, English 123, or English 221 or who plan to take one of those courses next semester should see ESL tutors, as they are specifically trained to support students in ESL Program courses. To learn more about ESL tutoring or to make an appointment, go to tinyurl.com/eslemory. All other students in the college should see Writing Center tutors who are trained to work with this broader population. Learn more and make an appointment at writingcenter.emory.edu. Please review tutoring policies before your visit.
